FIRST GEN CALIBER

BATTLEFIELD D-DAY

Powerfully evocative, the Battlefield collection parachutes into the heart of the most spectacular landing, code-named Operation Overlord, taking place in Omaha Beach on June 6, 1944. It celebrates the iconic offroad vehicle of the Second World War, a symbol of tenacity, durability and ingenuity : this "Land Force" was seen as one vital mechanical engineering to win the war. On the front line, the ww2 watch D-DAY model sporting a sandblasted khaki dial marked with the white star, the national emblem of the US Army, in a gunmetal steel case. At its heart, beat three horological complications to the rythm of the battles to face to overcomeand reach the victory. Powered by RESERVOIR's first generation caliber: a self-winding mechanical movement combining an exclusive patented 124-piece module on an ETA-2824, to bring to life the retrograde minute, jumping hour and a 37-hour power reserve. Delivered in a green army metallic box, as the one used for amunition, with an additional NATO strap.
