HYDROSPHERE CENOTE

BRONZE CASE & GREEN DIAL

Imminent immersion - Dive time: 45 minutes, depth: 25 meters. The pressure is rising. Desires for exploration and challenge infuse the senses and mind. Stay focused, while checking the equipment: cylinders, oxygen, regulator, stabilizer... Sealed on the wrist, the HYDROSPHERE watch bearsthe effigy of scuba diving manometers, the first survival instruments for divers. The Hydrosphere Cenote is a tribute to the natural tunnels and wells of water and light commonly known as « cenote » in Mexico, whose origins date back thousands of years to the Mayan civilizations. While diving, the light entering these caves reveals a multitude of bright color variations, in particular dominant of greens colors caused by the reverberation of the jungle in the water. An unidirectional ceramic rotating bezel with double graduation, helium valve, a bronze case watertight up to 250m, a green dial with sundial finish, a power indicator, mounted on a green NATO strap with bronze stirrups, the HYDROSPHERE watch asserts its uniqueness with a single hand on the dial for a radical reading of the time. Powedered by a swiss-made self-winding mechanical movement, combining a patented proprietary 124-pieces module on ETA2824 Caliber with a 37-hour power reserve. Delivered in a waterproof container with an additional rubber strap.
